Board of Governors

On behalf of the Board of Governors at the Edwards County Golf Club, we welcome to the 2023 Midwest Masters Tournament.

The Midwest Masters is a celebration of friendship and competition, offering an opportunity for good friends to make great memories through the sport of golf. The purpose of the Masters is to, once a year, bring together this one-of-a-kind crew as a late-summer tradition - time reserved on the calendar for the boys every August.

Upon it's founding in 2019, the Midwest Masters has delivered now five years of fellowship on the golf course as the Tournament continues to build traditions and history - which will sustain the competition long after we have passed it on down to our sons and grandsons.

We thank you for playing a key part in the early years of the Masters as a participant. The Board of Governors works to create an atmosphere and experience that fosters a desire to return each summer to compete, and we appreciate your continued support of the Tournament.

As the Tournament turns five years old this summer, we wish you the best of luck in this fifth edition of the Midwest Masters and hope you can join us once again for the sixth edition in the summer of 2024.

HISTORY

Edwards County Golf Club

The Edwards County Golf Club is the host of the Midwest Masters Tournament. Edwards County Golf Club, also known as ECGC, represents golfers from the Southern Illinois county of Edwards and is tied to that location as a result of its member's attendance at area high schools for primary education.

Many ECGC members are past graduates of Edwards County High School in Albion, Illinois - a rural town of approximately 2,000 citizens. Additionally, graduates of nearby Mt. Carmel High School have also become longstanding members of Edwards County Golf Club, further expanding the footprint of the Club's reach.

While the Club appreciates and honors its Southern Illinois roots, ECGC has expanded in recent years to accept out-of-county and out-of-state members who have been invited to the club by existing club members.

The current Club membership list includes the following individuals:

Brayden Cowling
Irving, Texas

Wyatt Mosson
Grayville, Illinois

Jordan Cox
Olney, Illinois

Lucas Rogers
Albion, Illinois

Doug Findley
Marshall, Illinois

Kevin Schuh
Mt. Carmel, Illinois

Jonah Laws
Olney, Illinois

Noah Thompson
Evansville, Indiana

Mitch Lear
Mt. Carmel, Illinois

Nathan Utley
Irving, Texas

Nyk Lear
Albion, Illinois

Rex Utley
Albion, Illinois

Ryan Lear
Sumner, Illinois

Tanner Watkins
Indianapolis, Indiana

Carter McCue
Spring Hill, Tennessee

Current Club members receive annual invites to the Midwest Masters Tournament. In order to become a member of Edwards County Golf Club, an individual must be nominated by a current Club member and approved by a Board of Governor.

Club member status is not perpetual and can be revoked at any time for failure to uphold the standards of the club.

Midwest Masters Tournament

Since 2019, the Midwest Masters Tournament has served as the premiere invitation-only amateur golf event in the Midwest. Traditionally scheduled for the last Saturday in August, players are treated to the experience of Augusta in a one-day round at Cambridge Golf Course in Evansville, Indiana.

The Midwest Masters Tournament belongs to the Edwards County Golf Club and was founded by Jonah L. Laws, Nathan R. Utley, and Tanner J. Watkins on April 14, 2019. On the eve of Sunday at the 2019 Masters Tournament, the trio decided to have a brunch at Laws' home to enjoy the historic morning telecast of that year's final round.

With tee times and three-man groupings moved to the morning – and Tiger Woods hunting his first Green Jacket since 2005 – the conditions were right for a historic day.

The Board of Governors, as they would formally become, put pen to paper on a plan to host an invitation-only tournament in late summer at a regional golf course. The initial idea was crafted earlier in the week at Laws' house for a bratwurst cookout on April 11, and after an invite list was determined on April 14, the Midwest Masters was born.

Originally scheduled as a two-day tournament, courses under consideration to host the Midwest Masters included the West Berwick Golf Course in Mt. Carmel, Richland Country Club in Olney, and Carmi Country Club – all in Illinois.

After a late-July report of poor playing conditions in Olney – and the lack of a true championship feel at Carmi or Mt. Carmel – it was decided on August 15 that the first tournament would be held at Cambridge Golf Course in Evansville, IN.

Invitations were mailed shortly thereafter, and the first Green Jacket was ordered on August 20. On Saturday, September 28, the first edition of the Midwest Masters Tournament was held with eight players in the maiden field.

Subsequent editions of the Masters have been held at dates earlier in the year – the 2020 tournament was held over Labor Day weekend on September 5, followed by August 28 in 2021 and an August 27 tournament date in 2022.

As it happened to turn out, the first playing of the Midwest Masters was not a summer event at all – it's September 28th date was five days into the 2019 autumn season.

Cambridge Golf Course

The Midwest Masters Tournament is played annually at the Cambridge Golf Course in Evansville, Indiana. Built in 2000, the Tim Liddy-designed course features a championship layout etched into 170 acres of Indiana farmland.

Multiple tees, target landing areas, in-play lakes, formidable grass mounds, demanding bunkers, and finely sculpted bent grass greens highlight this challenging 6,200-yard Scottish-style links course.

Cambridge's design places an emphasis on accurate tee shots, leaving the player optimal angles into the tight greens on par-four and par-five holes. The par-threes require precision shot making with challenging pin placements and numerous (but unique) bunkers guarding the greens.

Fairways, Tees and Greens

All tees and fairways have been constructed with native soil and sodded with zoysia grass, considered the premier fairway grass for play in Southern Indiana. The greens, built to USGA specifications, feature L-93 bent grass – the same grass used on the greens at the Augusta National Golf Club.

Roughs

The primary rough are a blended fescue-bluegrass mix. Native grasses along lake edges, bunker facings, and in other areas help frame the golf holes.

Bunkers

Bunkers of all shapes and sizes are in strategic fairway locations and green surrounds. Many bunkers are in-play, serving as guides for shot direction, while other are in outlying areas for support and added aesthetics.

Practice Facility

Located between #16 and #18, the seven-acre Practice Range consists of two split-level zoysia grass tee areas, eight target greens for varying length shots with a mock fairway running around them, a chipping green, plus a bent grass green and bunker for pitching and sand practice.

Hole-by-Hole Descriptions

Holes Ranked from 1 (Most Difficult) to 18 (Least Difficult); Cumulative Scoring from 2020-2022

HOLE NO. 1
Jones
Par 4, 375 Yards

	Average
2022:	5.25	(14)
Cumulative:	5.56	(9)
Low (Year):	5.25	(2022)
High (Year):	6.00	(2021)

Description

The first hole is a downhill par four with a fairway that lazily swings from left to right as the tee shot carries. Past a line of trees at the outset of the hole's left side, there is room for an errant drive to land in grass to the left, but thick rough borders the second cut on the right and proves difficult for misses to that side.

Uniquely-shaped bunkers line the left side of the green and it's approach area, though there is plenty of short grass to work with on the right side for safe misses.

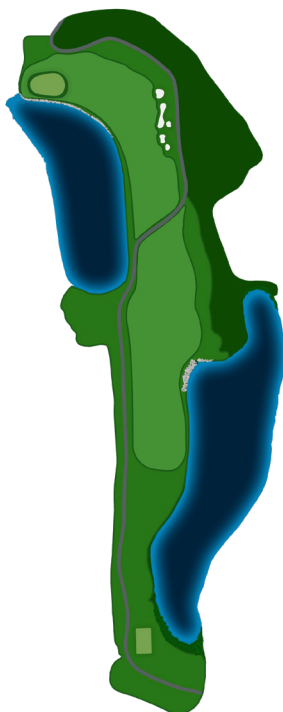

HOLE NO. 2
Sarazen
Par 5, 506 Yards

	Average
2022:	7.42	(1)
Cumulative:	7.58	(1)
Low (Year):	6.90	(2021)
High (Year):	8.43	(2020)

Description

The second hole is a level – but challenging – par five with a fairway that begins straight before doglegging left. A long, narrow body of water guards the fairway short and right while extending further right as tee shots carry.

Approach shots to the pear-shaped green are challenged with another body of water to the left, though there is ample room to miss to the right with short grass and the second cut extending past the cart path for a chip back onto the green – which slopes towards the water.

HOLE NO. 3
Roberts
Par 3, 147 Yards

	Average
2022:	3.50	(18)
Cumulative:	3.80	(18)
Low (Year):	3.50	(2022)
High (Year):	4.00	(2020)

Description

The third hole serves as the first par-three on the course, sitting at a yardage of 147 for the Midwest Masters Tournament. Water and a long, narrow bunker guards the uniquely-shaped (and large) green on the left-hand side. Ample room to miss the green is available deep and to the right, but flared tee shots too deeply-struck or missed right will find the rough.

Despite the welcoming nature of the green's large expanses – comparing similarly to the oversized tee box – subtle elevation changes and hidden breaks make par on this hole an earned score.

Hole-by-Hole Descriptions

Holes Ranked from 1 (Most Difficult) to 18 (Least Difficult); Cumulative Scoring from 2020–2022

HOLE NO. 4
Mickelson
Par 4, 378 Yards

	Average
2022:	5.58 (6)
Cumulative:	6.27 (2)
Low (Year):	5.58 (2022)
High (Year):	7.43 (2020)

Description

The fourth hole is a sweeping par four with prevailing winds from left to right. The fairway begins straight, then doglegs sharp left to wrap around a large water hazard. Ample room is available to the left of the fairway and second cut, though balls in this area of the rough can be a challenge to find – providing players with a risk/reward dilemma.

The green is guarded by the water and another long, narrow bunker to the right – similar to the third hole. Three small pot bunkers on the left approach to the green keep players honest, though are not as challenging to escape.

HOLE NO. 5
Player
Par 3, 151 Yards

	Average
2022:	4.33 (12)
Cumulative:	4.49 (12)
Low (Year):	4.33 (2022)
High (Year):	4.70 (2021)

Description

The fifth hole serves as the second par three in three holes on the front nine. The long tee box offers a variety of yardage possibilities for Cambridge staff, through the Masters yardage stands at approximately 151 yards. The tee shot is to an elevated green with slopes that fall away from the fringe dramatically on the front and right sides. Players must carry the water, and poorly-struck tee shots often find the hazard or are lost in the rough that is short and right of the green.

The green – unremarkable in shape but challenging in its topography – falls near the front but has multiple flat levels in its heart and deepest contours. The optimal tee shot miss is deep and left.

HOLE NO. 6
Watson
Par 4, 376 Yards

	Average
2022:	6.17 (2)
Cumulative:	5.78 (5)
Low (Year):	5.57 (2020)
High (Year):	6.17 (2022)

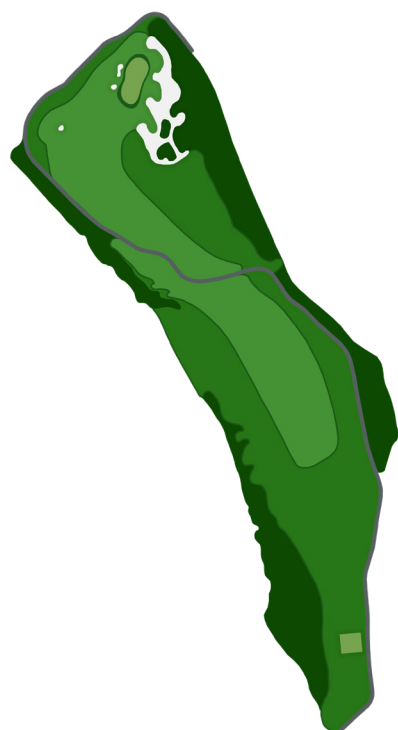

Description

The sixth hole is a rather straight par four with a fairway that softly sways from left to right. Two tiny pot bunkers line the boundary of the left fairway before the cart path, and there is a small amount of room to miss the fairway to the second cut short and right. On approach, short grass surrounds the green but bunkers on the left (long and angling) and right (two tiny pot bunkers again) will keep players honest.

A shot long and over the green leaves little room for error, while the natural miss on approach to this green would be to the right.

Hole-by-Hole Descriptions

Holes Ranked from 1 (Most Difficult) to 18 (Least Difficult); Cumulative Scoring from 2020–2022

HOLE NO. 7 Demaret Par 5, 501 Yards

	Average
2022:	6.42	(9)
Cumulative:	6.90	(4)
Low (Year):	6.42	(2022)
High (Year):	7.57	(2020)

Description

The seventh hole is a 501-yard par five with a challenging set of twists and turns on the way to the green. A drawn tee shot sweeping from right to left would benefit players as the fairway continues to more aggressively dogleg left. As the fairway narrows (and rough comes into play) on the left, the hole itself is tucked away in a corner on the right with bunkers guarding each side.

Approach shots are to miss short or long – if they are to miss at all – as they take aim at another peanut-shaped green.

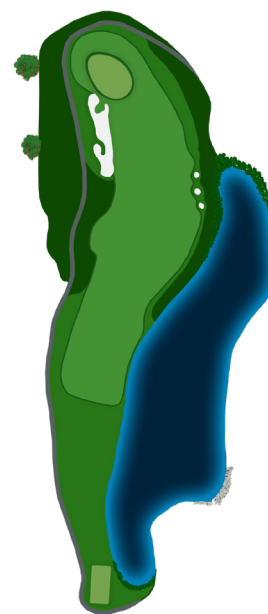

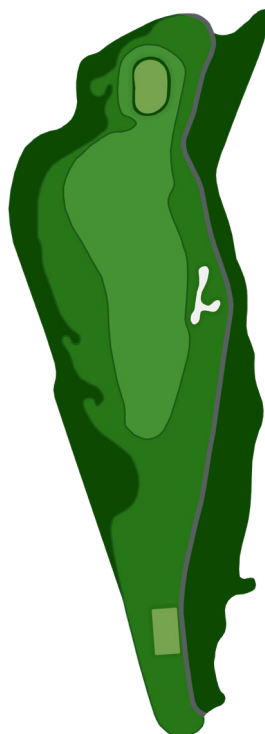

HOLE NO. 8 Langer Par 4, 298 Yards

	Average
2022:	5.17	(15)
Cumulative:	4.99	(17)
Low (Year):	4.80	(2021)
High (Year):	5.17	(2022)

Description

The eighth hole is the shortest par-four on the course at a Masters length of 298 yards. Errant tee shots fading to the right could land in the cursive L-shaped bunker, while the fairway begins to open up as tee shots travel along the left side.

Conversely, shots into the un-guarded green are welcome to miss right and deep with ample room in the second cut available. Approach shots missing to the left will quickly find unfavorable conditions and a difficult angle to stop on the green.

Description

The ninth hole offers risk and reward for competitors as they close the first nine. Deep tee shots will benefit from the fairway's opening-up to the right hand side but a long, large water hazard looms for shots that carry too far right. Three small bunkers sit on the right hand side of the fairway as the water ends, narrowing the short grass for the rest of the hole from that point onward.

On approach to the egg-shaped green, another long, crawling bunker sits adjacent to the left while the safe miss would be deep and right – as long as you don't strike the cart path which leads to the halfway house for a break between the nines.

Description

The tenth hole starts the second nine with a dogleg left par four, guarded by water on the left side with a Masters length of 421 yards. Safe tee shots will be up the right side with a straight angle into the green, but the cart path and four bunkers (increasing in size) will be in-play for tee and approach shots from that direction.

The oval-shaped green is guarded by a long, anchor-shaped bunker on the left and a smaller peanut-shaped bunker on the right, with ample room to miss deep or short on approach.

Description

The eleventh hole is a 300-yard par four – the second-shortest on the course – which utilizes two different tee boxes at the discretion of Cambridge Golf Club. A wide bunker sits midway through the fairway with a hill postured on the backside, creating a blind approach shot for players who hit into or just before the bunker. The optimal tee shot is up the left side, allowing an approach to the green that takes the left-hand side pot bunkers out of play.

Misses long and right are acceptable on this hole, while approach shots that stray to the left will be in trouble with the aforementioned bunkers as well as the brush and trees at far left.

Description

The twelfth hole is an uphill par five with a distance of 491 yards. This hole requires strength and precision as competitors take aim at a fairway that begins wide for the tee shot but narrows as you travel up the hill. Room to miss is available up the left side from the tee shot and mid-approach shots.

Upon reaching the plateau green there are three bunkers that guard the left and back side of the green with a small space to miss to the right. Pin locations in the back of the green can be deceptively far away as players dial in an approach shot, due to the uphill nature of the hole and green itself.

Description

The thirteenth hole is one of the more iconic holes at Cambridge Golf Course, a par three that measures at a Masters distance of 141 yards.

The tee shot is exacting, requiring the right distance and control to avoid one of the 12 bunkers that circle the green itself. The only reprieve from the danger is a miss long and right from the green, offering a challenging chip back onto the green for up-and-down.

The hole is named after the late Arnold Palmer, winner of four Masters Tournaments and a member of the "Big Three" with Nicklaus and Player.

Description

The fourteenth hole at Cambridge Golf Course is a 393-yard par four with 19 bunkers and water past the cart path on the left hand side. The preferred tee shot will land on the fairway's center-to-right side, allowing for a direct angle into the green while taking the water out of play. Tee shots into the bunkers on the left and right side will likely require a lay-up before taking aim at the green.

On approach to the jelly-bean shaped green, there is virtually zero space to miss left before entering the water while errant shots to the right will have more grass to find – despite three strategically-placed pot bunkers sprinkled in.

Description

The fifteenth hole is a 321-yard par four featuring a long body of water that carries from the tee box all the way to the green. A long tee box itself allows Cambridge staff to arrange the tees in a variety of ways, but the best drives are to the right-center of the fairway to help avoid carrying the water on an approach shot. The fairway itself invites a fade as it opens with deeper drives down the right.

On approach, six bunkers guard the left-front of the green while a pair are situated at the back left. The optimal miss on approach is short and right, leaving multiple pitching options onto the long green.

Description

The sixteenth hole at Cambridge is the final par five of the round – a snaking 504-yard hole with more narrow fairways and strategically-plotted bunkers. A well-struck tee shot is preferred to account for optimal positioning on approach or a lay-up second shot. Tee shots missed to the right can quickly find bunkers or the rough, while tee shots to the left can quickly find rough that makes ball retrieval difficult.

Only one small bunker resides nearest the green – on the back right – and plenty of room is available to play out to the left. A small line of bushes will trap balls too far to the left, but deep is also a safe miss into this smallish green.

Description

The seventeenth hole is the final par three on the course. Measuring in at 168 yards for the Midwest Masters, this uphill par three is exacting from the tee.

Bunkers sit off the elevated green to the left, and a misplaced shot could see a ball hit short grass first before rolling down into the bunker.

The optimal miss would be short as it leaves a relatively straightforward pitch onto the green to try and save up-and-down, though wind is always a factor and can cause competitors problems when judging tee shot decisions.

Description

The eighteenth and final hole of the Midwest Masters Tournament is a downhill par four that measures in at 379 yards. The fairway opens up slightly on the right side for shorter tee shots, but further down the hill it begins to narrow again. Wide tee shots left will make contact with apartment homes while errant tee shots right will be out of bounds into the practice facility.

On approach, the green has room to miss short, right and deep with only a couple bunkers truly in play on the left side. The best miss is short as the multi-level green can best be accessed from the front chipping position.

Naming of the Holes

Site of the former Fruitland Nurseries, Augusta National Golf Club abounds in the natural beauty of its trees and shrubs. It was Louis Alphonse Berckmans, son of P.J.A. Berckmans, who, along with Bobby Jones and Clifford Roberts, adorned each hole with the plant for which it was named.

At age 74, Louis returned to Augusta to help rehabilitate the trees and shrubs on the golf course. He was made a member of the Club and in approximately 1932, as a member of the Beautification Committee, decided where to locate the 18 varieties. Some were already in their proper location, but plants for the majority of the holes had to be planted.

Taking that history into consideration, the Edwards County Golf Club has honored the tradition of named holes at Cambridge Golf Course. Each hole has been named after a prior Masters Tournament champion, with holes paired with each golfer's personality and aura of their playing days.

As an example, the Par Five 12th hole at Cambridge has been named after Jack Nicklaus - the winner of six Green Jackets, most all time. The 491-yard hole is uphill the entire way from tee to green, demanding a powerful approach to reach the green in regulation.

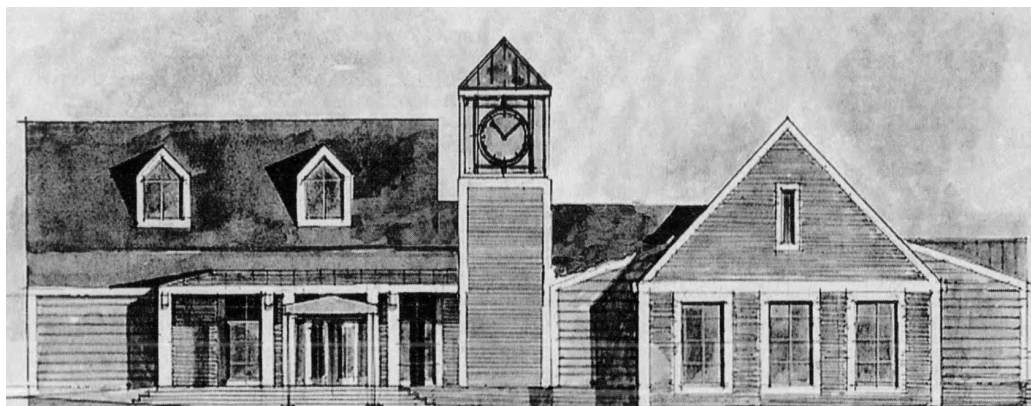

Conversely, the very next hole - the 13th - is a 141-yard Par Three in honor of the late Arnold Palmer. Perhaps Cambridge's most recognizable hole with 13 bunkers surrounding an elevated green, a composed, exacting tee shot is required to hold this green and escape with a par.

Finishing the second nine, the Par Four 18th hole is named for Tiger Woods. The ultimate competitor, finishing strong on the final hole of the Tournament will require a strong drive and precise iron play to properly honor the most influential golfer of the 21st century.

The only exception to the Masters winners only rule is the Par Three third hole, which is named after Augusta National's first chairman, Clifford Roberts.

The Tournament

The Midwest Masters Tournament is an invitation Tournament that is sponsored by a private organization. The qualification regulations are the principal means of determining the player invitation list, but such eligibility under these regulations does not oblige the Board of Governors to issue an invitation, nor does failure to invite imply unfitness of any kind.

The first consideration of the Midwest Masters is to show our players every possible courtesy in their Tournament experience. The chief objective of the Midwest Masters is to stage a golf tournament that is enjoyable for all - to our Club members, invitees, and patrons. We would also like, if we can, to contribute something to the overall advancement of the game of golf.

Playoff

If there is a tie for the lead after 18 holes of play, a sudden-death playoff will commence at hole No. 18 - as long as replaying the hole for the leaders does not affect pace of play for the subsequent groups on the course. If replaying the hole is not possible, the the leaders will have a putting contest as determined by the non-competing Board of Governors at that time.

Green Jacket

The Augusta National member's green coat program began in 1937. Members were urged to buy and wear a jacket during the Masters Tournament so patrons would be able to identify a reliable source of information. In 1949, the first Green Jacket was awarded to that year's Masters champion, Sam Snead. The single-breasted, single vent Jacket's color is "Masters Green" and is adorned with an Augusta National Golf Club logo on the left chest pocket.

In 2019, during the Midwest Masters' maiden Tournament, the Board of Governors purchased their first Green Jacket from a company named Uxcell on Amazon. The jacket featured a forest green color with black buttons and a single pocket on the left chest, without a logo. This version of the jacket was used in 2019 and 2020, both times with Nathan Utey winning the Tournament.

For the 2021 Midwest Masters, a new jacket was introduced after the Board of Governors opted for an upgrade in quality and longevity for the product. Buy A Blazer, headquartered in Fairfield, New Jersey, was commissioned to provide the new Green Jacket - outfitted in their "Augusta Green" color and the Neil Allyn model to resemble the famous single chest pocket/gold button layout.

With the new jacket design came patches of the Augusta National logo to adorn the left chest pocket. Patches on the two jackets ordered (two sizes for potential winner coverage) were hand-sewn by Tami Dascotte, the grandmother of Board of Governor Tanner Watkins.

Nathan Utey won the new edition of the Green Jacket in 2021, and when it came time to return to Cambridge for the 2022 Tournament, the jacket was mistakenly left in Irving, Texas at the past champion's residence. After an overnight order from Buy A Blazer, an additional Green Jacket arrived on the Friday before the Midwest Masters to be awarded to the next champion on Saturday - which ultimately was Utey.

Traditionally, the champion takes his Green Jacket home with him for one year, returning it to the club when he returns for the Tournament. The jacket is then stored with the Edwards County Golf Club, and typically, a multiple winner will have only one Green Jacket unless his size drastically changes.

It is custom at the Midwest Masters Tournament that the winner from the previous year presents the Green Jacket to the new winner and helps him into it. If that player wins the Tournament in a repeat occasion, then a member of the Board of Governors will place the Green Jacket on the winner.

In that instance, Tanner Watkins placed the Green Jacket on Nathan Utey in 2019 and 2020, and Jonah Laws has placed the jacket on Utey in 2021 and 2022.

Masters Club

Better known as the “Players Dinner,” the Masters Club began after the 2019 Midwest Masters Tournament as a way for the invitees to enjoy a meal together following the Tournament round. It’s membership is limited to Edwards County Golf Club members, but significant others can be invited to the dinner as well.

The Masters Club Players Dinner has been held in 2019, 2021, and 2022. Below are examples of the dinner menus and locations where each dinner has been held.

Year	Defending Champion	Location	Menu Items
2019	Nathan Utley	Guadalajara Mexican Grill, Grayville, IL	Chips & Salsa Assorted Mexican Entrees
2021	Nathan Utley	Borowiak’s IGA Office Albion, IL	Slow-Cooked Ribs, Family Style Sides, Caesar Salad, Vanilla Ice Cream, Tea and Lemonade
2022	Nathan Utley	Zuki Japanese Hibachi Grill, Evansville, IN	Authentic Japanese Hibachi Cuisine with Steak, Chicken, Fried Rice, and Vegetables

Honorary Starters

Physical honorary starters have not been used thus far to open the Midwest Masters Tournament. The understanding is that, in future Tournaments, elder members of Edwards County Golf Club will have the opportunity to open the competition rounds with a ceremonial tee shot if they are not participating in that year’s event.

In 2022, Board of Governors representatives Jonah Laws and Nathan Utley honored the late Bob Dascotte, the grandfather of fellow Board of Governor Tanner Watkins and the cook for the 2021 Masters Club Players Dinner, with a pre-round speech in each group. A ceremonial gift of Country Bob’s seasoning was given to each participant on the first tee box, and after Laws’ speech in the final group, participant Noah Thompson poured a portion of the seasoning at the first tee in honor of Dascotte.

Summary: In the most competitive Midwest Masters to-date, Nathan Utley tied his best career score in the Tournament with an 82 - six strokes clear of Mitch Lear. The six-stroke margin was the closest in Tournament history while a record three players (N. Utley, M. Lear and first-timer Lucas Rogers) were under 90, and a record nine players were under 100. It was the best field average in the Masters' four-year history at 98.25 - more than three strokes better than the previous record set in 2021.

NATHAN UTLEY
2021 MIDWEST MASTERS CHAMPION

2020 Midwest Masters Tournament

September 5, 2020

Champion: Nathan Utle

Summary: In the second edition of the Midwest Masters Tournament, Nyk Lear jumped out to an early advantage with a four-stroke lead over defending champion Nathan Utle after three holes. The eldest Lear in the competition faded from that point, though Mitch Lear would find himself one stroke off Utle's lead after nine holes. A torrid 36 on the second nine for Utle would set the pace down the stretch, pulling away from the field en-route to a 13-stroke triumph and his second Green Jacket.

INVITEES

Brayden Cowling

Birth Date: October 23, 1995

Residence: Irving, Texas

Age: 27 Height: 6-0 Weight: 195

Education: Southern Indiana

Edwards County G.C. Member Since: 2019

Player Notes: Cowling is a three-time starter in the Midwest Masters Tournament, recording a best finish of 8th in two of his starts.

Brayden, a graduate of Edwards County High School and the University of Southern Indiana, made his Masters debut at the 2019 inaugural tournament, placing 8th with a score of 122.

In a return effort, Cowling posted a score of 118 during the 2020 Masters before missing the 2021 edition of the Tournament. Brayden made his third start in 2022, posting a career-best 98 with a tied-career-best 8th place finish.

Cowling was the first left-handed player to appear in the Midwest Masters back in 2019 - followed only by Jordan Cox, who made his debut in 2021. The 2022 edition of the Masters saw two left-handed players in the same Tournament for the first time with Cowling and Cox.

In his professional career, Cowling is a survey pilot at Optic Air, an aerial survey company providing services across the United States. While in high school at Edwards County (Albion, IL), Cowling lettered in baseball.

2022 Masters: Cowling posted a career-best 98 after missing the 2021 Masters Tournament, finishing eighth. A opening-hole bogey was followed by a 10 on the Par Five second hole, before steadying the front with a par on the Par Three third hole. After three consecutive bogeys, the first nine was marred by another 10 - on the other Par Five, the seventh hole - before notching a birdie on No. 8 and a double on No. 9 to close with an opening 51.

The second nine was much cleaner, opening with three consecutive bogeys before recording par on the Par Three 13th hole and Par Four 14th hole. A bogey, two doubles and one triple brought home the second nine, shooting a 47 which was tied for fifth-best on the back nine in 2022 en route to his first sub-100 score at the Midwest Masters Tournament. Cowling's eight bogeys - a strong score at the Midwest Masters - was fifth best in the field of 12 at the 2022 event.

2020 Masters: In his second Midwest Masters Tournament start, Cowling carded a 118 which was good for 11th place. An opening double bogey was coupled with a 12 on the Par Five second hole, which set the stage for a tournament-high 62 on the first nine. Another double-digit score - a 10 on the Par Five 12th hole - was a mark on what became a better second nine which included a par on the challenging Par Three 13th hole. Despite the 11th place finish, the score of 118 was an improvement over the previous year's inaugural mark by four strokes.

2019 Masters: At the inaugural Midwest Masters Tournament, Cowling was part of the second group of tee times with Ernie Dutra, Ryan Lear, and the eventual champion, Nathan Utley. While hole-by-hole scores are not available for the 2019 Tournament, Cowling would post a 122 (two strokes behind Dutra's 120) and finish eighth in the eight-man field.

Jordan Cox

Birth Date: January 21, 1993

Residence: Olney, Illinois

Age: 30 Height: 6-2 Weight: 400

Education: Mt. Carmel High School

Edwards County G.C. Member Since: 2021

Player Notes: Cox is a two-time starter in the Midwest Masters Tournament, recording a best finish of 10th in 2021.

Cox, a graduate of Mt. Carmel High School, made his Masters debut in 2021 by placing 10th - posting a score of 118 in his inaugural showing. A sophomore start in 2022 saw Cox shoot a 131 en route to a 12th place finish.

Cox was the second left-handed player to appear in the Midwest Masters when he made his maiden start in 2021 - the only previous left-handed player was Brayden Cowling, who made his debut at the inaugural Masters in 2019. The 2022 edition of the Masters saw two left-handed players in the same Tournament for the first time with Cowling and Cox.

While in high school at Mount Carmel (Albion, IL), Cox was a member of the Aces varsity football team. Jordan is married to wife Bailey Cox and has two daughters and a son due in March 2023.

2022 Masters: Cox posted a 131 in his return effort at the Midwest Masters Tournament, finishing 12th. On the opening Par Four, Cox recorded a 6 before carding an 11 on the second-hole Par Five.

After a score of 7 on the Par Three third hole, Cox settled in with solid bogey scores on Holes No. 4 and 5, then recorded a career-best 8 on the Par Four sixth hole. Finishing with triple, quadruple, and triple bogey, Cox's first nine total amounted to 64.

While the second nine started in difficult fashion with a 9 on the Par Four 10th hole, Cox carded a par on the 11th before turning in a career-best 9 on Hole No. 12. A bogey on the Par Three 17th hole served as another highlight, and when all was said and done, the second nine total was 67 - accounting for a Tournament score of 131.

While the total score was 13 strokes worse than his debut showing in 2021, Cox improved his best score on eight holes from the previous year.

2021 Masters: Making his debut in the Midwest Masters Tournament, Cox turned in a final score of 118 and a 10th place finish in the event's third edition.

After an opening-hole triple bogey, Jordan made respectable double bogeys on Holes No. 2, 3, 4 and 5 for a steady start. Despite a 10 on the Par Four sixth hole, Cox finished the last three holes at just +3 - including a par on the ninth hole - to finish the first nine with a 56.

A pair of double bogeys opened the second nine for Cox, followed by a 10 on the Par Five 12th hole, before he made three more double bogeys on Holes 13, 14 and 15. On the 16th hole, Cox recorded a 12 - making him 12 shots over par for the two Par Five holes on the second nine. He would finish the round with a pair of double bogeys and post a 118 for his first showing in the Midwest Masters.

Jonah Laws

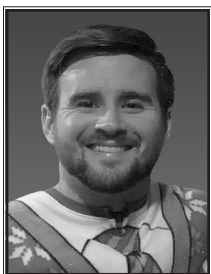

Birth Date: December 31, 1994

Residence: Olney, Illinois

Age: 28 Height: 5-11 Weight: 195

Education: Southern Illinois - Carbondale

Edwards County G.C. Member Since: 2019

Player Notes: Laws is a four-time starter in the Midwest Masters Tournament, recording a best finish of 2nd in the 2019 Masters. Laws, additionally, is a member of the Board of Governors at Edwards County Golf Club.

Laws, a graduate of Edwards County High School and Southern Illinois University Carbondale, made his Masters debut at the 2019 inaugural tournament, placing 2nd with a score of 94.

In a return effort, Laws posted a score of 100 during the 2020 Masters (tied for third with Noah Thompson) and followed that up with a 106 in the 2021 Masters, placing 8th overall.

At the 2022 Midwest Masters Tournament, Laws posted a career-best 91 en route to a fourth place finish in the lowest-scoring Masters field to date.

In his professional career, Laws is an aptly-named law enforcement officer serving for the Richland County Sheriff's Department in Olney, Illinois. While in high school at Edwards County (Albion, IL), Laws lettered in baseball and basketball.

2022 Masters: Laws carded a career-best 91 at the Midwest Masters Tournament, finishing with a balanced 46 on the first nine and 45 on the second nine.

The fourth-year starter began the round with a double bogey at the first hole, followed by respectable bogeys at the Par Five second hole and Par Three third hole. After a pair of double bogeys on No.'s 4 and 5, Laws answered with a par on the sixth hole, bogeys on Holes No. 7 and 8, and a par to finish the front nine.

Kicking off the second nine, Laws went bogey-par-bogey through the first three holes before recording a double bogey on the challenging Par Three 13th hole. From there, Jonah recorded a bounce back bogey on No. 14, followed by his final par of the round on the Par Four 15th hole. The final three holes saw scores of bogey, bogey and double bogey, resulting in a second-nine 45 and a strong 91 - which would have been good for runner-up in any other year than the ultra-tough 2022.

2021 Masters: As part of the 10:10 AM grouping, Laws worked his way to a pair of 53's on the first and second nine - resulting in a 106 and an 8th place finish.

Laws found a difficult start to the 2021 Tournament after posting 9 on the Par Four opening hole, followed by an 8 on the Par Five second hole. Rebounding from the +8 start, Laws scored par on the third hole and bogey on the fourth hole before a triple bogey on the second Par Three of the round. The first nine was finished with three consecutive bogeys and a double on Hole No. 9.

The Par Four 10th hole saw Laws post a 7, followed by bogey on the 11th and 12 holes. A par on the Par Three 13th hole was his second of the day on a par three, though his final of the round. Holes 14, 15 and 16 each saw a triple bogey before Laws posted double bogey on 17 and bogey on the finishing 18th hole.

2020 Masters: At the 2020 Masters, Laws was grouped with the 1:50 PM tee time including Ryan Lear, Kevin Schuh and Noah Thompson. While hole-by-hole scores are not available for the 2020 Tournament, Laws would post a 100 (in a tight race all day with fellow competitor Noah Thompson) and finish tied for third place with Thompson.

2019 Masters: At the inaugural Midwest Masters Tournament, Laws was part of the first group of tee times with Mitch Lear, Wyatt Mosson and Tanner Watkins. While hole-by-hole scores are not available for the 2019 Tournament, Laws would post a 94 (ten strokes behind Nathan Utley's tournament-winning 84) and finish runner-up in the eight-man field on a day that saw four players shoot scores under 100.

For example, a player with 2.92 strokes gained on Par Three holes is averaging a score on Par Three's that is 2.92 strokes better than the average score in the field. A player with -2.08 strokes gained on Par Three holes is averaging a score on Par Three's that is 2.08 strokes worse than the average score in the field.

Mitch Lear

Birth Date: February 6, 1995

Residence: Mt. Carmel, Illinois

Age: 28 Height: 6-0 Weight: 195

Education: Southern Indiana

Edwards County G.C. Member Since: 2019

Player Notes: Lear is a four-time starter in the Midwest Masters Tournament, recording a best finish of 2nd on two different occasions - in 2020 and 2022. Lear hasn't finished outside the top five in his quartet of starts.

Lear, a graduate of Edwards County High School and the University of Southern Indiana, made his Masters debut at the 2019 inaugural tournament, placing 4th with a score of 98.

Mitch improved on that effort in 2020 by carding a 95, good for second place behind Nathan Utley. Another strong performance in 2021 saw Lear finish third behind Utley and his brother, Nyk, after recording a 98.

At the 2022 Midwest Masters Tournament, Lear posted a career-best 88 on his way to a second runner-up finish and his first Tournament score under 90.

While in high school at Edwards County (Albion, IL), Lear lettered in baseball and basketball. Mitch is married to wife Ashley Lear and they reside in Mt. Carmel.

2022 Masters: Lear turned in a career-best score of 88 at the Midwest Masters Tournament, finishing strong with a 43 on the second nine and runner-up honors.

Mitch opened his round with a bogey on the Par Four first hole - a hole he has recorded a 5 on for each of the past three Tournaments. After a double bogey on the second hole, Lear knocked in a par at the Par Three third hole, followed by four straight bogeys. A double bogey on Hole No. 8 and a par on Hole No. 9 finished the first nine at a pace of 45 - Mitch's best start in a Midwest Masters and only four strokes off the lead.

On the second nine, Mitch turned in consistent bogey scores for the first five holes - comprised of three Par Fours, one Par Three and one Par Five. The strong bogey streak was broken only by a par on the 321-yard Par Four 15th hole. On the 16th and 17th holes, Lear recorded bogey once again before ending the round with a par on the Par Four finishing hole.

Lear finished with a career-best 43 on the second nine and did not make a double bogey - a feat bested only by the winner, Nathan Utley.

2021 Masters: Making his third start at the Masters, Lear turned in a 98 which was good for third place in the 10-man field.

An opening hole bogey would be followed by a double bogey on the second hole, bogey on the Par Three third hole, and a par on the fourth hole. After making double bogey on the Par Three fifth hole, Lear answered with a par on Hole No. 6. A finish of bogey, double bogey and quadruple bogey would leave his first nine score at 49.

Despite a triple bogey on Hole No. 10, Lear bounced back for a par at No. 12, followed by triple bogey on the Par Five 12th hole. Double bogeys followed on Holes No. 13 and 14 before recording the final par of the round on the 15th hole. Down the stretch, Mitch bogeyed the final three holes on his way to a second-nine 49, and an overall score of 98.

2020 Masters: Returning for his second start at the Midwest Masters, Mitch posted an improved score of 95 - three strokes better than his 2019 score - en route to a runner-up finish.

Lear opened the scorecard with a bogey on No. 1 before posting a quadruple bogey on the Par Five second hole. A sequence of par-bogey-par-bogey on the next four holes steadied the ship before a triple bogey on the Par Five seventh hole. On the front, Lear played the Par Fives at seven over par, while the other seven holes he played at four over par - totaling a first nine 47.

On the second nine, Lear started with a triple bogey at No. 10, followed by bogey on No. 11. On the Par Five 12th hole, Lear made it to the green in two strokes and poured in the eagle putt for the first such score in Midwest Masters Tournament history.

The remaining holes on the second nine would include two pars, one bogey, one double bogey and two triple bogeys - amounting to an eventful 48. The combined score of 95 was good enough for runner-up honors.

Nyk Lear

Birth Date: January 7, 1993

Residence: Albion, Illinois

Age: 30 Height: 6-4 Weight: 230

Education: Edwards County High School

Edwards County G.C. Member Since: 2020

Player Notes: Lear is a three-time starter in the Midwest Masters Tournament, recording a best finish of 2nd at the 2021 Masters.

Nyk, a graduate of Edwards County High School, made his Midwest Masters debut in 2020 with a score of 101 - good for fifth place in Lear's first year.

Back for his sophomore appearance at the Masters, Nyk posted a 94 in the 2021 Tournament to finish runner-up to champion Nathan Utley.

Most recently, at the 2022 Masters, Nyk shot 47-49 across the 18 holes of competition to record a 96 - and a seventh place finish in his third start.

While in high school at Edwards County (Albion, IL), Lear was a multi-sport athlete and represented the Lions in basketball and baseball. Nyk is married to wife Jessica Lear and the couple has a daughter, with a son due in May.

2022 Masters: Nyk registered a score of 96 in his third Masters start, finishing seventh in the field of 12 players. A pair of double bogeys opened his first nine, followed by a bogey on the Par Three third hole. Two triple bogeys followed on Holes No. 4 and 5 before a bogey on No. 6 and a birdie on No. 7 steadied the round. Lear would add a second straight birdie on No. 8, followed by bogey to close out an eventful first nine at 47.

The second nine was much steadier - starting with double bogey on No. 10, bogey on No. 11, then three straight double bogeys on Holes 12 to 14. Back-to-back pars on the 15th and 16th holes were followed-up by a pair of double bogeys to close out the round. Lear scored a 49 on the second nine, and a 96 overall - just two strokes off his best score in 2021 and a seventh place finish.

2021 Masters: Making his second appearance in the Midwest Masters, Lear made double bogey on the opening hole before settling into a stretch of three consecutive bogeys on Holes 2, 3 and 4. A double bogey on the Par Three fifth hole was followed by a bogey on No. 6, then a quadruple bogey on No. 7 - a Par Five. Lear closed his first nine respectfully, though, with pars on the final two holes and recorded a 48.

While the second nine got off to a sluggish start - a pair of bogeys and a double bogey - Lear rattled off three consecutive pars between Holes No. 13 and 15. Nyk then closed with a double bogey on No. 16, a triple bogey on No. 17 and a bogey on the closing 18th hole. In all, the round amounted to a 94 and a runner-up finish at the 2021 Tournament.

2020 Masters: Taking part in his first Midwest Masters, Lear registered a bogey on the opening hole - a typically good result. He followed that up with bogey on the Par Five second hole, and par on the Par Three third hole. Following three holes played, Lear had a four-stroke lead on defending champion Nathan Utley.

Despite a quadruple bogey on the fourth hole, Lear still held a one-stroke lead heading to the fifth hole. Nathan would then record bogey while Nyk posted triple bogey, and Utley would hold the top spot for the rest of the afternoon.

Nyk would finish the first nine with a bogey, a pair of double bogeys, and a triple bogey for a 53 going out.

Despite an up-and-down second nine, Lear would improve over the next nine holes of play. He scored bogey on No. 10, and despite a quadruple bogey on No. 11, Nyk posted par on the 491-yard 12th hole. Double bogeys marked the next two holes, while Lear would settle into a bogey streak on Holes 15, 16 and 17. He closed the day with par at the downhill 18th hole, which resulted in a second nine 48. His overall score of 101 was good enough for fifth place, a strong showing in his first appearance at the Midwest Masters Tournament.

Ryan Lear

Birth Date: November 30, 1994

Residence: Sumner, Illinois

Age: 28 Height: 5-11 Weight: 240

Education: Southern Illinois - Carbondale

Edwards County G.C. Member Since: 2019

Player Notes: Lear is a three-time starter in the Midwest Masters Tournament, recording a best finish of 5th at the inaugural Masters in 2019.

Lear, a lifelong Edwards County resident, made his Masters debut in 2019 and recorded a 110 while placing in the top five of the eight-man field.

In the 2020 Midwest Masters, Ryan shot a 116 which was good for 10th place, followed up by a 111 at the 2021 Tournament - a ninth place result.

Ryan missed the 2022 Masters and looks for a strong return at the fifth anniversary Tournament in 2023.

During the high school years, Lear was a letter-winner in baseball as a pitcher and first baseman - part of the regional championship-winning team in 2013. Ryan is married to wife Harley Lear and the couple have a pair of sons, most recently adding to the family this past March.

2021 Masters: Lear logged an up-and-down front nine 58 - followed by a steady 53 on the second nine - which resulted in a 111 on the scorecard and a ninth place finish.

After triple bogey to open the first two holes, Ryan recorded a double bogey on the Par Three third hole, followed by quadruple bogey on No. 4 and triple bogey again on No. 5. A pair of double bogeys on the next two holes helped set up a bogey on No. 8, before finishing the first nine with another double bogey and an opening score of 58.

While the second nine started with triple bogey at No. 10, a pair of double bogeys were registered on the next two holes before carding triple bogey again at No. 13. In the final five holes, Lear would mix in two double bogeys and three bogeys - his best stretch of the day.

Ultimately the second nine score was recorded at 53, bringing the full-round total to 111. That would be good for ninth in the 10-man field, improving on his finishing position at the previous Masters by one spot - and five strokes.

2020 Masters: In his return effort at the Midwest Masters Tournament, Lear worked his way to a final score of 116 and a finish of 10th out of 11 players.

While hole-by-hole scores are not available for Ryan from the 2020 Tournament, reports do indicate that he was in a battle through the day for the last spots in the top 10 alongside Wyatt Mosson (9th - 110), Tanner Watkins (10th - 112) and Brayden Cowling (11th - 118). Lear would finish 34 strokes off of Nathan Utle's record-setting 82

2019 Masters: At the inaugural Midwest Masters Tournament, Lear was part of the second group of tee times with Brayden Cowling, Ernie Dutra and Nathan Utle. While hole-by-hole scores are not available for the 2019 Tournament, Lear would post a 110 (26 strokes behind Nathan Utle's tournament-winning 84) and finish fifth in the eight-man field on a day that saw four players shoot scores under 100.

Wyatt Mosson

Birth Date: June 28, 1995

Residence: Grayville, Illinois

Age: 27 Height: 5-6 Weight: 160

Education: Indiana State

Edwards County G.C. Member Since: 2019

Player Notes: Mosson is a four-time starter in the Midwest Masters Tournament, recording a best finish of 3rd at the inaugural Masters with a 95. Lear hasn't finished outside the top eight in his quartet of starts.

Mosson, a graduate of Edwards County High School and Indiana State University, followed up his debut score at the Midwest Masters in 2019 with a 110 in the 2020 edition of the Tournament, finishing eighth.

For the 2021 event, Mosson shot 51-52 and posted a 103 while finishing in sixth place out of 10 players. At the 2022 Midwest Masters, Wyatt tied his career-best mark with another 95 on his way to a fifth-place finish in the most competitive Tournament to date.

While in high school at Edwards County (Albion, IL), Mosson lettered in baseball as a catcher and pitcher. Mosson is additionally an approved official scorer for the Midwest Masters Tournament and is eligible to lead groups as a rules official, effective as of 2022. Wyatt is married to wife Abbi Mosson and they reside in Grayville.

2022 Masters: Mosson equaled a career-best score of 95 at the Midwest Masters Tournament, keeping a steady pace all day on his way to his second top five finish.

The opening hole for Wyatt resulted in a bogey - one of the better scores on the day at Hole No. 1, though it was followed up with a triple bogey at the Par Five second hole. Righting the ship, Mosson posted birdie at the third hole - a 147-yard par three. Wyatt went double bogey, bogey, then triple bogey on the following three holes before ultimately posting a 48 on the first nine - good for eighth place at the midway mark.

Mosson triple bogeyed the opening hole of the second nine before posting bogey on No. 11, followed by birdie on the 491-yard Par Five 12th hole and then par on the Par Three 13th hole. He then posted bogey and double bogey on the next two holes before making triple bogey on the Par Five 16th hole. A bounce-back on No. 17 would see Mosson record par (and shoot even par on the Par Three's for the day) before a closing double bogey on No. 18. In all, Mosson shot 48-47 across the two nines en route to a total of 95 - good for fifth place.

2021 Masters: In his third start at the Midwest Masters, Mosson shot a 103 and improved on his score from 2020 by seven strokes on his way to a sixth place finish.

It was a strong start as Wyatt posted par on the first hole, then followed by a double bogey, then a par on the Par Three third hole. As was the case in 2020, though, he would be challenged at the fourth hole by posting triple bogey, followed by triple again at No. 5. Mosson would go +7 over the final four holes of the opening nine to post 51 - lining up in seventh place through nine.

The second nine started slowly with quadruple bogey on No. 10 and double bogey on No. 11, though settled with bogey on the next four consecutive holes. From there, Mosson made double bogey on the last three holes coming in and ultimately posted a 52 across the second nine. The 18-hole score amounted to 103 - a step in the right direction from the 2020 score by finishing sixth.

2020 Masters: Making his sophomore appearance at the Masters, Mosson carded a 110 and finished eighth out of 11 participants in the Tournament.

Wyatt worked his way into the round with double bogeys on No.'s 1 and 2 before spotting a bogey on No. 3. It was at the Par Four fourth hole where Mosson faced heavy scrutiny, scoring an 11 after leaving multiple strokes in the bunker. A pair of double bogeys followed before a quadruple bogey on No. 7 moved Mosson into a three-way race for last place with fellow group mates Brayden Cowling and Tanner Watkins.

After a career-high 59 on the first nine, Wyatt settled in with no worse than double bogey on any of the subsequent holes on the second nine. This included a bogey on three of the next four Par Four holes and a second nine score of 51 - fourth best of all scores recorded on the back nine during the 2020 Tournament.

The final score came to be 110, though Mosson was able to rally from the challenging front nine position to a finish of eighth place by the close of play on Masters Saturday.

Statistics not available for the 2019 Tournament.

Strokes Gained (SG) measurement is a player's performance relative to the field average, where a positive number is performing better than the average player, and a negative is performing worse than the average player.

For example, a player with 2.92 strokes gained on Par Three holes is averaging a score on Par Three's that is 2.92 strokes better than the average score in the field. A player with -2.08 strokes gained on Par Three holes is averaging a score on Par Three's that is 2.08 strokes worse than the average score in the field.

Lucas Rogers

Birth Date: April 29, 1991

Residence: Albion, Illinois

Age: 32 Height: 5-10 Weight: 175

Education: Olney Central College

Edwards County G.C. Member Since: 2022

Player Notes: Rogers made his debut start at the 2022 Midwest Masters Tournament in rousing fashion, carding an 89 on his way to a third place result in last year's event.

Rogers, a graduate of Edwards County High School and Olney Central College, was a multi-sport athlete at EC and represented the Lions in baseball and football.

Lucas, the older brother of Levi Rogers and the son of Edwards County fishing legend Elmo Rogers, is also the owner of the Spare Time bowling alley in Albion, Illinois - which has been known to host some pre-Masters gatherings during Tournament Week in past years.

2022 Masters: To make it to the course for his debut Midwest Masters, Rogers worked a night shift ahead of an early-morning tee time and was running short on sleep before a challenging day of golf.

By the scoring, you wouldn't have known it. Rogers posted par on the first hole (only five times has it been done in the history of the Midwest Masters) before following it up with a double bogey on the Par Five second hole. Lucas would notch his first par of the day on Hole No. 3, followed by a string of bogeys at Hole No. 4 (par four), No. 5 (par five), and No. 6 (par four).

Rogers again posted par on Hole No. 7, this time a 501-yard Par Five, before the 298-yard Par Four eighth hole got the best of him with a quadruple bogey. Lucas closed the first nine with a bogey, amounting to a 46 and a three-way tie for third place with Jonah Laws and Tanner Watkins.

On the second nine, Rogers was the definition of consistency. He posted bogey on the challenging 10th hole before recording par at the 300-yard 11th hole. That set up a string of six consecutive bogeys from Holes No. 12 through 17, which included a mix of two Par Threes, two Par Fours, and two Par Fives.

On the final hole of the Tournament, Rogers posted par (only Mitch Lear equaled that effort on the day) and locked in a strong 43 on the second nine. His combined efforts amounted to an 89, good for third place at the 2022 Midwest Masters as well as the best score from a first-year player.

Rogers' back-nine 43 tied for third-best all time and his 11 bogeys - a strong score at the Midwest Masters - was second all-time through the 2022 event.

Kevin Schuh

Birth Date: September 8, 1995

Residence: Mt. Carmel, Illinois

Age: 27 Height: 5-11 Weight: 200

Education: Southern Indiana

Edwards County G.C. Member Since: 2020

Player Notes: Schuh made his debut start at the 2020 Midwest Masters Tournament and posted a first-year score of 103 while playing with Jonah Laws, Ryan Lear and Noah Thompson in the first three-group Masters.

In his second start at Cambridge, Schuh recorded a 111 in the 2022 edition of the Midwest Masters - good for 11th overall in the 12-man field.

Schuh was invited to the 2021 Tournament but was unable to attend.

In his high school days, Schuh attended Edwards County (Albion, IL) and represented the Lions in baseball and basketball during his four years. Schuh played baseball at Illinois College and finished his degree at the University of Southern Indiana. Kevin resides in Mt. Carmel with wife Keaton Schuh, where he is a financial advisor for Edward Jones.

2022 Masters: Returning for his second start at the Midwest Masters, Schuh battled through the day to record a 111 and an 11th place finish in the Tournament's toughest field to date.

Opening the round, Schuh posted par at Hole No. 1 - a feat matched only by Nathan Utley and Lucas Rogers in the 2022 Tournament. In total, it was only the fifth recorded par on the first hole in Midwest Masters history. While the following hole saw triple bogey on the Par Five second, a par on Hole No. 3 still saw Schuh tied for third after three holes.

A pair of double bogeys were recorded on the fourth and fifth holes of the Tournament, though it would be the sixth hole which provided a difficult blow to the round. On the 376-yard Par Four sixth hole, Schuh posted a score of 13 - the highest on the hole in Midwest Masters history. It would drop Schuh towards the bottom of the leaderboard in an insurmountable hole despite some strong and consistent play through the rest of the Tournament. On the next hole he tallied a double bogey, followed by bogey on No. 8 and double bogey on No. 9. The front nine amounted to a 57, placing him 11th at the halfway point.

The second nine opened with a quadruple bogey on No. 10, the 421-yard Par Four, followed by double bogey on the subsequent five holes. That consistent stretch of play was improved with a bogey on Hole No. 16, the 504-yard Par Five, then a double bogey on No. 17 and a bogey to finish the day at No. 18.

The second nine score came to be 54 - a three-stroke improvement on the front nine score - and ultimately Schuh posted a 111 in his second Masters appearance. It placed him 11th out of the 12 men to play in the 2022 Tournament, the toughest field thus far.

2020 Masters: In Schuh's debut at the Midwest Masters Tournament, Kevin was part of the final group of tee times with Jonah Laws, Ryan Lear and Noah Thompson. While hole-by-hole scores are not available for this group in the 2020 Tournament, Schuh would post a 103 (21 strokes behind Nathan Utley's tournament-winning 82) and finish seventh in the 11-man field on a day that saw increasingly challenging conditions compared to the 2019 event.

Noah Thompson

Birth Date: August 2, 1995

Residence: Evansville, Indiana

Age: 28 Height: 6-2 Weight: 225

Education: Southern Illinois - Carbondale

Edwards County G.C. Member Since: 2020

Player Notes: Thompson has made three appearances in the Midwest Masters Tournament, recording a best finish in a tie for third in his debut at the 2020 event.

In that maiden run at the Masters, Noah posted a score of 100 which placed him tied for third with Jonah Laws at the century mark.

At Noah's second Midwest Masters start, he shot 104 with a 49 on the front nine and a 55 on the back nine.

Most recently, at the 2022 Masters, Thompson posted a steady 47-48 pair of nines which amounted to a 95 - his best score at the Tournament and a second top-five finish, this time in a tie for fifth with Wyatt Mosson.

While in high school at Mount Carmel, Thompson played football for the highly-regarded Aces. Noah is a financial advisor at OneIndiana Financial Group and resides in Evansville, Indiana - the home of the Midwest Masters.

2022 Masters: Thompson posted a tally of 95 en route to his best scoring day at the Midwest Masters in his three appearances.

The round started with a difficult triple-bogey on the opening hole - a place where he recorded par in the previous Masters in 2021. Despite the shaky start, Thompson would post bogey on No. 2, par on the 147-yard third hole, and bogey for holes No. 4 and 5 to right the ship. After triple bogey on Hole 6 and double bogey on the Par Five seventh hole, Thompson carded a birdie on Hole No. 8 and finished the first nine with a bogey at the 377-yard Par Four ninth hole. Noah posted 47 for the opening nine and was tied for sixth at the halfway mark.

Kicking off the second nine, Thompson scored a double bogey on No. 10, followed by a par on the 300-yard 11th hole. His next par would come on the long Par Five 16th hole (preceded by bogeys on No. 12 and 14, and double bogey on No. 13 and 15) before finishing the round with a pair of double bogeys on the 17th and 18th holes.

Thompson's second nine score of 48 was sixth-best, and at the end of the day his 95 put him in a tie for fifth place with Wyatt Mosson - a strong score at the most competitive Masters through the Tournament's first four editions.

2021 Masters: In his sophomore run at the Midwest Masters, Thompson scored a 104 and placed 7th in the 10-man Tournament.

Noah kicked off his round with a par at the first hole - one of only two players to that point to accomplish the feat - and was tied for the lead early on. The second hole, though, saw Thompson post triple bogey to slide him out of the top spot. Steady bogeys followed at Holes 3 and 4 before the first par of the day came on the fifth hole. On his way to finishing a solid opening nine, Thompson quadruple bogeyed the Par Four ninth hole to post a 49 - perhaps an unlucky score after a strong start.

The +4 score on the ninth hole seemed to stunt momentum for the rest of the round as Thompson would shoot a 55 on the second nine. This included four double bogeys and three triple bogeys, with the best scores on the back coming at the Par Three 13th hole (bogey) and the Par Four 14th hole (bogey).

The total score amounted to a 104 - four strokes off his debut score of 100 - despite some strong stretches of golf on the opening nine.

2020 Masters: Making his first appearance at the Midwest Masters Tournament, Thompson posted a 100 and joined Jonah Laws in a tie for third place. While hole-by-hole scores are not available for the grouping of Laws, Ryan Lear, Kevin Schuh and Thompson in the 2020 Tournament, Noah's 100 was 18 strokes behind Nathan Utle's tournament-winning 82 but only five strokes back of Mitch Lear's runner-up score of 95.

Strokes Gained (SG) measurement is a player's performance relative to the field average, where a positive number is performing better than the average player, and a negative is performing worse than the average player.

For example, a player with 2.92 strokes gained on Par Three holes is averaging a score on Par Three's that is 2.92 strokes better than the average score in the field. A player with -2.08 strokes gained on Par Three holes is averaging a score on Par Three's that is 2.08 strokes worse than the average score in the field.

Rex Utley

Birth Date: September 25, 1967

Residence: Albion, Illinois

Age: 56 Height: 5-9 Weight: 195

Education: Edwards County High School

Edwards County G.C. Member Since: 2020

Player Notes: Utley is a three-time starter in the Midwest Masters Tournament, logging a best finish of fifth place at the 2020 event.

Rex, a graduate of Edwards County High School and the father of four-time Midwest Masters champion Nathan Utley, made his Midwest Masters debut in 2020 with a score of 102 - good for sixth place in the field of 11 players.

In his sophomore appearance at the Masters, Utley posted a 102 after shooting 49-53 on the first and second nines, which placed him fifth overall in the 2021 Tournament and only four shots off of a top three finish.

Most recently, at the 2022 Masters, Rex shot a 104 despite a career-worst 53 on the first nine. He rebounded to shoot a career-best 51 on the second nine and placed 10th overall on the day.

While in high school at Edwards County (Albion, IL), Utley won the 1985 Plow Boy award. Rex is married to wife Wendy Utley and resides in Albion, Illinois. The couple have a daughter - Shea - and the aforementioned son, Nathan.

2022 Masters: At his third Midwest Masters appearance, Rex started his round the same way he had started the first two Masters he'd seen - with a steady bogey on the opening hole.

While his second hole would be more like 2020 (recording an 8 for triple bogey) and less like 2021 (when he scored a 6 for bogey), Utley bounced back with a bogey on the Par Three third hole before posting double bogey over the remaining six holes on the first nine. The overall result was a 53, Utley's worst score on the front nine in his three starts at the Masters.

The second nine saw a rebound, though, starting with bogeys on the 10th and 11th holes, followed by double bogey across a stretch of the next four holes. After a bogey on the 504-yard Par Five 16th hole, Rex would post double bogey on the final two holes to register a second nine 51. It was his lowest score on the second nine in his career, and while the round amounted to a career-high 104, it was a strong finish to the day.

2021 Masters: Utley returned to the Masters in 2021 looking to improve on his sixth place finish at the 2020 Tournament. The day started strong with bogey on the first three holes, which tied for second with the Tournament one-sixth complete.

While a triple bogey on the fourth hole would stunt Utley's progress a bit, he would post bogey on the Par Three fifth hole as well as the Par Four sixth hole. Double bogeys on Holes 7 and 8 would follow before the first nine was closed with bogey. In all, Utley would improve on his 2020 debut front nine, this time post a 49 (bettering his 50 from the first nine in 2020).

On the second nine, Utley opened with bogey on the challenging 10th hole then double bogey on the 11th. While he would post bogey again on the long Par Five 12th hole, a quadruple bogey on the 141-yard Par Three 13th hole served a difficult blow to the round.

Utley would post double bogey on the next four holes before finishing the second nine with a bogey - and a 53. It ultimately led Rex to the same score as his debut run at the Masters - a 102 - though a better finishing position as he placed fifth in 2021.

2020 Masters: Making his debut at the Midwest Masters Tournament, Utley rode a 50-52 set of nines to a 102 score and a strong sixth place run.

Rex started the round with a bogey at the opening hole - tied for the best score of the day on Hole No. 1 - before posting a triple-bogey on the long Par Five second hole. A bogey on No. 3 was then followed by another triple bogey on No. 4, but then Utley settled in. He posted bogey on Holes No. 5, 6 and 7, followed by a par on the eighth hole. A triple bogey closed the first nine card, resulting in an even 50 at the halfway mark.

The big score continued to be a thorn in Utley's side on the second nine, starting with a quadruple bogey on the Par Four tenth hole. After bogeys on No. 11 and 13, sand-wicked between a double bogey on No. 12, Utley recorded triple bogey on No. 14. From there, Rex posted a pair of double bogeys on the 15th and 16th holes, a bogey on No. 17, and a par on the difficult 18th hole coming in.

In the end, Utley would shoot 52 on the second nine and the total score resulted in 102. It placed him sixth out of the 11 participants at the 2020 Tournament and his pair of pars was fourth-best on the day.

Nathan Utley

Birth Date: March 16, 1995

Residence: Irving, Texas

Age: 28 Height: 6-1 Weight: 175

Education: Southern Illinois - Edwardsville

Edwards County G.C. Member Since: 2019

Player Notes: Utley is a four-time starter at the Midwest Masters Tournament, and the only champion in the history of the event - winning the 2019, 2020, 2021 and 2022 editions of the Masters.

Additionally, Nathan is a founding member of the Midwest Masters Tournament, serving on the Board of Governors of the Edwards County Golf Club.

At the first Midwest Masters in 2019, Utley won by 10 strokes over fellow Board member Jonah Laws by posting a score of 84. In the follow-up effort in 2020, Utley improved to shoot 82 and won by 13 strokes over Mitch Lear.

In 2021, Utley split the difference in his first two scores and shot 83 - which was good for an 11-stroke win over Nyk Lear.

At last year's Masters, Utley was tested with a tougher field than any other in the Tournament's history. He responded with another 82 - tying his career-best score - and secured a six-stroke victory over runner-up Mitch Lear.

While in high school at Edwards County (Albion, IL), Utley played baseball and basketball for the Lions. Nathan is currently a planning consultant in the financial industry for Fidelity Investments. Nathan is engaged to his fiancée Erin Pettyes with the couple due to wed in mid September.

2022 Masters: In the search for a fourth Green Jacket, Utley got off to his best career start by posting par at the first three holes on the course - a Par Four (1st), Par Five (2nd) and Par Three (3rd). The first bogey would come at the fourth hole, followed by bogey on Holes 5 and 6 before a bounce-back birdie was tallied on the seventh hole.

Utley would close the first nine with a bogey on the Par Four eighth hole, followed by double bogey on the ninth hole - which would be his lone blemish of note during the 2022 Tournament. Nate's 41 on the first nine was his second-best in his career, trailing only the 39 he posted to open the 2021 Masters.

On the second nine, Nate posted par on the 10th hole followed by bogeys on Holes 11 and 12. Nate would add to his par total on the 13th and 14th holes, then for the last time on the Par Five 16th hole for a daily high seven pars. The next-closest competitor was first-year player Lucas Rogers with five pars in the Tournament.

Despite the best showing for the field at any Masters, Utley cruised to a relatively comfortable six-stroke win while tying his career-best score of 82.

2021 Masters: Vying to go three-for-three in Midwest Masters victories, Utley posted a double bogey to kick off his Tournament as part of the 10:30 AM tee time group- ing.

After bogey on the Par Five second hole, Utley notched pars on the third and fourth holes before tallying another bogey on the Par Three fifth hole. From there, Nathan heated up to go 1 under across the last four holes on his way to a Tournament-record 39 on the front nine.

While it would be difficult to match his record-setting second nine score from 2020, Utley would do enough to clinch a third Green Jacket over the final nine holes. Despite a triple bogey on the 10th hole and a double bogey on the 11th, Utley would go just +3 across the final seven holes which included pars at holes No. 12, 14, 16 and 18.

Ultimately the day ended with Utley posting a 44 on the second nine and carding an 83 for his second-best score at the Masters.

2020 Masters: Winning the Midwest Masters in convincing fashion in 2019, Utley was challenged early at the 2020 Tournament before storming home to a dominant finish.

After posting bogey on the first hole, a triple bogey on the Par Five second hole and double bogey on the third hole left Utley trailing in the Tournament for the first time. Nyk Lear had a four-stroke lead after three holes and held the lead after the fourth hole despite Utley posting bogey while Nyk carded quadruple bogey.

Utley notched bogeys on the fifth, sixth and seventh holes before finishing the last two holes of the first nine with par. Those pars helped steady a 46 on the first nine, but more importantly, set the stage for a historic second nine. At the midway point, Utley led Mitch Lear by one stroke while Nyk had faded to seven strokes back.

The aforementioned strong second nine began with a par at No. 10, followed by back-to-back birdies at Holes 11 and 12. A bogey on the Par Three 13th hole would be one of two lone bogeys on the second nine - the other being the opposite Par Three at No. 17. The remaining holes would all result in par - setting a tournament record with five pars on one set of nines.

Ultimately Utley finished with an even-par 36 on the second nine - another Tournament record - on his way to a strong 13-stroke victory and his second Green Jacket.

2019 Masters: At the inaugural Midwest Masters Tournament, Utley took home the Green Jacket by posting an 84 - 10 strokes clear of second-place Jonah Laws. While hole-by-hole scores aren't available for the 2019 Tournament, Utley is believed to have led wire-to-wire for the win in the Tournament's debut showing at Cambridge.

For example, a player with 2.92 strokes gained on Par Three holes is averaging a score on Par Three's that is 2.92 strokes better than the average score in the field. A player with -2.08 strokes gained on Par Three holes is averaging a score on Par Three's that is 2.08 strokes worse than the average score in the field.

Tanner Watkins

Birth Date: September 27, 1995

Residence: Indianapolis, Indiana

Age: 27 Height: 5-11 Weight: 155

Education: Eastern Illinois

Edwards County G.C. Member Since: 2019

Player Notes: Watkins is a four-time starter at the Midwest Masters Tournament and a founding member of the event. Additionally, Tanner serves as one of the three Board of Governors - alongside Jonah Laws and Nathan Utley.

At the first Midwest Masters in 2019, Watkins shot a 113 as part of the first grouping at the Tournament to tee off. In a return effort in 2020, a 60 on the first nine thwarted any substantial progress before Watkins carded a 112.

In 2021, Watkins improved to shoot his first sub-100 round with a 99 - and a fourth place finish.

At last year's Masters, Watkins recorded his best first nine score before stumbling slightly to another 99 - though this result was only good for ninth place in the ultra-competitive 2022 event.

While in high school at Edwards County (Albion, IL), Watkins played baseball for the Lions as a utility middle infielder. Tanner is currently the marketing manager for Lucas Oil Indianapolis Raceway Park on the west side of Indianapolis. Watkins is married to wife Malia Watkins and the couple live in Zionsville.

2022 Masters: Coming off his career-best showing in at the 2021 Masters, Watkins looked to improve on his efforts by shooting under 99 in 2022.

The round started with a double bogey on the first hole, followed by bogey on the Par Five second hole - after hitting his tee shot into the water for a stroke penalty. Watkins bounced back with a par at the third hole, followed by double bogey on the fourth, and par again on the Par Three fifth hole.

Watkins again posted par on the sixth hole before going double bogey, double bogey, and bogey to close the first nine. Tanner's opening-nine score of 46 was his career-best, and was tied for third at the midway point of the Tournament.

Beginning the back nine, Watkins' errant tee shot on No. 10 was followed up by a second shot in the water. That hole resulted in double bogey, followed by bogey on No. 11 and a triple bogey on No. 12. It was at Hole 13 where Watkins left multiple shots in the bunker, and came home with a quadruple bogey on the par three.

After double bogey on No. 14, Watkins notched par on the 15th hole and bogey on the 504-yard 16th. A pair of double bogeys closed the second nine out at a score of 53. When all was said and done, Watkins had equaled his 99 from the year prior and finished five spots worse in the ultra-competitive 2022 field - ninth place.

2021 Masters: Watkins opened his 2021 Tournament with a triple bogey on the first hole, followed by a bogey on Holes 2 and 3 before posting triple bogey on the fourth hole. It wasn't until the fifth hole where Watkins recorded his first par of the day - followed by two double bogeys, and then two more pars on No.'s 8 and 9.

The front nine score amounted to 48 - a best for Watkins - and he was tied for second place in the Tournament's early going.

On the second nine, Watkins began with double bogey on the 10th hole, followed by a string of three straight bogeys. The stretch from No. 14 onwards was troublesome, including double on the 14th and triple bogey on the 15th, then double on No. 16 before recording bogey on the 17th. Coming down the hill at 18, Watkins scored a double bogey to notch a second nine 51 - and his first sub-100 score of 99. It was also good enough for fourth place in the Tournament and just one shot off of third place.

2020 Masters: A difficult front nine stunted any progress towards a meaningful improvement for Watkins at the 2020 Tournament.

Watkins made three scores of nine on the front nine - including the Par Five second and seventh holes, as well as the Par Four fourth hole - as well as five double bogeys. There were no pars to be found on the first nine, with the best score being a bogey at the Par Three third hole. That ultimately resulted in a score of 60, which was second-to-last at the midway mark.

The second nine was much cleaner, though the start was still a bit rocky. A double bogey on No. 10 led to triple bogey on No. 11, before Watkins recorded par at the 12th hole.

Tanner made his first career birdie at the Par Three 13th hole, hitting his tee shot to around 12 feet. Unfortunately, the next three holes saw scores of triple, quadruple, and triple bogey, respectively. A pair of bogeys closed out the round with the second nine score tallying to 52. On the day Watkins had recorded a 112, one stroke better than his previous year's effort.

2019 Masters: At the inaugural Midwest Masters Tournament, Watkins was part of the first tee group that started the event's history with Jonah Laws, Mitch Lear and Wyatt Mosson. Watkins placed sixth with a score of 113.
